

MYTHS AND LEGENDS

Picture	Name or nickname	Country	Where exactly?	What about?

The Michigan Dogman - 'Nessie' - United States - The Beast of Bladenboro - 'The most haunted house in England' - The Loch Ness Monster - North Carolina, in the woods and forests - United-States - England, UK. - Near Inverness, in a lake located in the Scottish Highlands - Scotland - The Amityville Horror - In a desolate area near the east coast of England - United-States - In the forest- On the south shore of Long Island, New York - Borley Rectory.

A	A sea monster with a long neck which looks like a huge dinosaur.
B	The house was built on the site of an ancient monastery and the ghost of a sorrowful nun. An old story claimed that the nun had fallen in love with a monk from the Borley Monastery. The two had tried to elope together but had been quickly tracked down. The monk was executed and the nun bricked up in the cellars of the monastic buildings!
C	A creature resembling either a bear or a panther. Also described as a kind of wildcat attacking people and animals.
D	A creature with a man's body, a dog's head and walking on two legs. Attacks people.
E	In December 1975, George and Kathleen Lutz and their children moved into 112 Ocean Avenue. After 28 days the Lutzes left the house, claiming to have been terrorized by paranormal phenomena while living there.